

NNOA Conference to Focus On Professional Development

The National Naval Officers Association (NNOA) will hold its 33rd annual National Professional Development and Training Conference from August 8–12 at the Hilton New Orleans Riverside.

NNOA is an organization that assists the Navy, Coast Guard, and Marine Corps in recruitment, retention and professional development of minority officers. The conference includes educational and developmental sessions designed to enhance the professional knowledge of attendees.

Conference uniform for Navy personnel will be summer white and coat and tie for civilians. Navy uniform for the formal banquet will be dinner dress white jacket (dinner dress white for O-3 and below), and black tie or equivalent for civilians and guests.

For more information on lodging, registration, or history of the organization, visit www.npc.navy.mil/commandsupport/diversity.htm. Click on Navy Diversity Calendar conference on the right of the page, and then click on the NNOA link.
